Blues Day at Flower Fields

The beautiful Flower Fields will be blooming with fantastic colors and equally fantastic music when BLUSD presents our annual "Blues Day," April 26th, from 1-4pm.

The concert is included with price of admission to the Flower Fields, located at 5704 Paseo Del Norte in Carlsbad just off Hwy 5.

BLUSD will have a table there and there is room to dance as well as benches to relax and kickback on.

Join us on this very colorful day to celebrate life, music and nature. ■

Sharon Jones HOB Mar 22

Sharon Jones and The Dap Kings are appearing at House Of Blues in downtown San Diego this Saturday, March 22. Showtime is 9pm.

They are spearheads of a revivalist movement that aims to capture the essence of funk/soul music as it was at its height in the mid-1960s to mid-1970s. Their new CD is entitled Give The People What They Want and I bet that's just what they intend to do. Checkout this hip band. ■

CD Reviews....

BLUE YONDER

Hard Garden

Hard Garden Music

Hard Garden takes its name from the band's stated perspective that "blues today is like an old plot of land – once vibrant and fertile but after years of being overlooked has turned into a wasteland or hard garden."

Bounding out to rescue the blues from this dismal state into which they believe it has fallen, Hard Garden declares their goal: to "breathe new life into the blues by, attempting to blend the pure, raw essence of original blues with a contemporary groove."

Hey guys, BLUSD members can probably think of a few hundred blues artists who can prove your "wasteland" theory to be grossly overstated. But, on the other hand, attempting to blend the essence of blues with a contemporary groove, instead of blindly rehashing the works of the old masters, is a valid and welcome expenditure of artistic talent.

Most of the songs are hybrids, with a strong blues or funk undertone and amusing lyrics, melded well with electronica accents. There's a little funk, a lot of slide guitar and a little New Orleans.

Somewhere within the depths of the RL Burnside groove lies a solid link to modern hip-hop and dance music. In Blue Yonder, Hard Garden has connected to the link in a surprisingly effective set of songs, all original except Son House's "Depot Blues." Michael Wilde knows his way around a blues harmonica, and demonstrates his expertise with his irresistible licks. Talented guitarist/singer/bass-player Son Jack, Jr., has the chops that are needed to carry off this unique project. Uniting with Garrett Williams (guitar, percussion, bass, keys), an experienced and award-winning engineer, musician and producer, the Wilde/Jack duo has accomplished an intriguing and engaging album that definitely breaks new ground. ~ DM

BIG WALTER HORTON: LIVE AT THE KNICKERBOCKER

Big Walter Horton

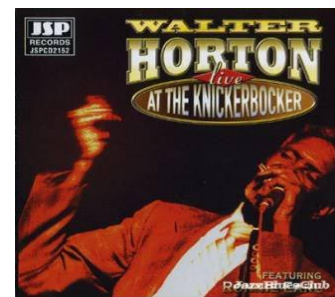

JSP

Recorded live in 1980, a year before the death of the illustrious Big Walter Horton, this 2014 re-issue was originally released on vinyl in 1981 under the title, Little Boy Blue, and again in 1998 under the current name of Live at the Knickerbocker. Also featured on the album are young Ronnie Earl (originally listed as Ronnie Earl Horvath) as the guitarist, Sugar Ray Norcia on vocals and second harmonica, Little Anthony Geraci on piano, Ms.Ola Dixon on drums and Michael "Mudcat" Ward on bass.

After Sugar Ray provides the harp on the first three tracks, Big Walter steps out to join the band as King of the Blues Harmonica on "Walter's Shuffle" and the remaining five tracks. To many, Walter Horton personifies the ultimate blues harp player. He is rumored to be the first one to amplify his harmonica. You'll recognize him on many Muddy Waters recordings, as well as numerous others with Johnny Shines, JB Hutto, Koko Taylor, Sunnyland Slim, Tampa Red, Otis Rush and Otis Spann. He was the harmonica player on Willie Dixon's classic album I Am the Blues, and on Fleetwood Mac's groundbreaking Blues Jam in Chicago. I was surprised to find that he was the harp player on one of my all-time favorites, Johnny Young's rendition of "Kid Man Blues," on Chicago/The Blues Today, Vol. 3."

Even before Ronnie Earl had settled on his stage name, he was already an astounding guitarist at this stage of his career, as exemplified particularly well on Lord Knows I've Tried and the closing track, Walter's Swing, both of which have become staples in his performance repertoire.

The nine tracks capture the band in a great live groove at a memorable moment in blues history. ~ DM ■

BLUSD Member Band Spotlight

Our Jammin' Out The House of Blues
March featured Member Band:

THE CHASE WALKER BAND

appearing Mar 26th

When you hear California based Chase Walker Band for the first time you know for sure that the next generation of the blues has come calling!

Influenced by Texas, Chicago and Louisiana blues and zydeco, their original music and powerful adaptations of classic blues songs bring audiences to their feet. This tight trio's soulful sound and performance is polished well beyond their collective years. The band is 15 year old Chase Walker (vocals and lead guitar); 14 year old Matthew "pocket for days" Fyke (drums) and 15 year old Randon Davitt (vocals and bass), Chase Walker has performed at the Vans Warped Tour, House of Blues, Buddy Guy's Legends, The El Rey, The Roxy, International Blues Challenge, in Memphis and many more locations across the country.

Although this band is comprised of teenagers, they play like seasoned pros, and its members have become sought after entertainers, performing at iconic venues like Buddy Guy's Legends and House of Blues, sharing the stage with legends like BB King and Coco Montoya and performing at music festivals and events across the Country. You don't want to miss these kids!

Chase Walker Band is endorsed by Carp Amplification, Heil Sound & Spaun Drums.

Blues Music Summer Camp Has New Face

Blues Music Summer Camp has a new face and a new base! The dates for this years' Camp will be August 4th – August 8th, 2014. August 4th – August 8th, 2014 at new venue, CPMA at 5050 Conrad Ave, San Diego, CA 92117.

Janet Blair, our BITS and Camp Director, has been working on creating new strategic partnerships through the Clairemont Mesa cluster of schools. As a result of her diligence, we have successfully teamed with CPMA, the Creative, Performing and Media Arts Magnet Middle School and also Madison High School to create a new face and new base for our esteemed Blues Music Summer Camp.

CPMA OFFERS:

- ~ A new, state of the art, performing arts center facility. On track to be opened in May 2014
- ~ An opportunity to integrate our Program into the school curriculum by giving students not only opportunities to participate in the Camp but also awarding senior students community service hours and leadership/mentoring internships to include in their personal portfolios
- ~ Availability of instruments for our use
- ~ Support from school staff
- ~ Funding partnerships and grants from within the region.
- ~ Potential to do this in other schools throughout the school year using this model of partnership

We will offer 20-25 placements for our Camp with a small number of scholarships to qualifying applicants. Madison High School will select three to six 11th grade students to be mentor/interns to work with CPMA's chosen middle school students in the following areas:

- ~ SOUND and TECHNICAL SUPPORT
- ~ VIDEO and PHOTOGRAPHY
- ~ PERFORMANCE and PRODUCTION

Madison High School has excellent resources for video production and the students will be creating a video of our Camp.

Mary and David Lewis have offered their services as our Camp's professional photographers again this year.

Assemblies to get the school population and district excited about what we bring to the table are booked for the CPMA students on April 25th and a secondary school teachers meeting on May 21st.

Other upcoming opportunities on the calender to bring awareness to BLUSD and our BITS program:

LOVING LOCAL MUSIC LOCAL FOOD – GALA

EVENT - Held August 10th, 2014, this unique and timely event is going to provide much needed funds for the provision of our Blues Music Summer Camp. Thanks to the event's organizer LJ Livingston. This is an amazing opportunity.

CLAIREMONT DAY AT THE BAY – April 12th, 2014

This is a local fundraiser for the schools in the Clairemont Mesa District. It involves many festivities and a fun-run fundraiser. BLUSD BITS and Camp Director Janet Blair and Camp Vocal instructor and BLUSD editor Michele Lundeen will be joining the Madison High School Principal to create awareness and promote to the whole school community the new partnership BLUSD has with these schools.
